Waukesha man to be Packers road warrior in 2012 Wins top prize in Lottery's Packers Raffle

(Madison) —Eric Hill of Waukesha might want to invest in some new luggage.

He's going to be traveling to every Packers road game in the 2012 season.

Hill won the ultimate road warrior prize for any Packers fan in the Wisconsin Lottery's Packers Raffle.

As the raffle's top prize winner Hill receives 4 tickets to each 2012 Packers regular season road game including:

- Airfare for 4 to each destination
- 2 hotel rooms at each destination
- Transportation to and from the airport and the game
- 4 Tailgate Party passes at each destination
- Trip for 2 to any away 2012 season Packers playoff games (excluding the Super Bowl) including tickets, airfare, and hotel.
- OR 4 tickets (with no transportation or hotel accommodations) to any 2012 season home playoff games in which the Green Bay Packers are playing.

The value of the road game travel package prize is just under $70,000.

Seventy-five other lucky players won MVP Tailgate Ticket packages at Lambeau Field and 100 more won $300 Packers Pro Shop Gift Cards.

The Lottery's Packers Raffle went on sale October 1st and the winning tickets were drawn on November 3rd. Hill's top prize winning ticket was #0141147. He purchased it at a Wales Kwik Trip on North Wales Road. It was one of 190,000 tickets sold.

All 176 winning Packers Raffle ticket numbers are available on the Lottery's web site, www.wilottery.com.
